2026 FRONT OFFICE NOTES

ROBERT H. CASTELLINI

PRINCIPAL OWNER AND MANAGING PARTNER

On Nov. 2, 2005, the Cincinnati Reds announced that the controlling interest in the club would be acquired by a group of Cincinnatians led by Robert H. Castellini, Chairman of Castellini Company.

Other members of the group acquiring the controlling interest include Thomas L. Williams and W. Joseph Williams, Jr., President and Chairman, respectively, of Cincinnati based North American Properties.

The sale of the club was completed on Jan. 19, 2006, and Mr. Castellini assumed control of the Club as its Chief Executive Officer.

Mr. Castellini has been involved in Major League Baseball for close to 40 years. He became a partner in the Texas Rangers in 1989 and the Baltimore Orioles in 1993. From 1995 until 2006 Mr. Castellini was a major partner in the St. Louis Cardinals. His interest in the Cardinals was sold as a condition of his acquisition of the Cincinnati Reds.

Mr. Castellini has been the Chairman of Castellini Group of Companies since 1992, following tenures as Executive Vice President from 1967–1970 and President from 1970–1992. The Castellini Company businesses include perishable distribution, food processing, public warehousing, transportation logistics and leasing.

In 1963, he graduated from Georgetown University with a degree in economics and after two years as an officer in the U.S. Army he received his MBA from Wharton Graduate School in 1967.

Mr. Castellini is very active in the Cincinnati community. 2025 REVIEW

In 2025, the Reds qualified for Postseason play for the first time since 2020 and first time in a full season since 2013, where they were swept, 2 games to none, by the eventual-champion Dodgers in a best-of-3 National League Wild Card Series. Although Cincinnati and New York each finished the year with an 83-79 record, the Reds secured the final Wild Card berth by virtue of taking 4 of 6 from the Mets during the season series. Terry Francona became the fifth manager in Reds history to lead the team to the Postseason in his first year at the helm, the first since 2026 Reds Hall of Fame inductee Lou Piniella did so in 1990. Cincinnati opened the year by going 42 consecutive series without being swept, a streak that was ultimately snapped after a 3-game sweep at the hands of the Dodgers from 8/25-8/27 at Dodger Stadium. That marked the team's longest sweepless series streak to open a campaign in club history, surpassing the 1970 National League pennant-winning team, which went 32 straight sets before being swept in a 2-game series from 7/22-7/23 at Wrigley Field. The Reds produced 33 comeback victories from 6/1 through the end of the regular season, second most in the majors during that span.

OPPONENTS

For the second consecutive year, Milwaukee's Pat Murphy was named the recipient of the National League Manager of the Year Award by the national chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America. Murphy received 27 of the possible 30 first-place votes to beat out fellow finalists Terry Francona (Cincinnati) and Rob Thomson (Philadelphia) and become the third skipper in either league to win the award in back-to-back seasons, joining Tampa Bay's Kevin Cash (2020-21) and Atlanta's Bobby Cox (2004-05). In 2025, Murphy guided the Brewers to a franchise-record 97 wins and the best record in MLB, culminating in a trip to the National League Championship Series. Murphy, who is the only Brewers skipper to ever win the NL Manager of the Year Award, has guided the club to National League Central division titles in each of his first 2 years at the helm.

HISTORY

SS Elly De La Cruz and LHP Andrew Abbott represented the Reds at the 95th MLB All-Star Game at Truist Park in Atlanta, Georgia, marking the second career All-Star appearance for De La Cruz and first for Abbott. De La Cruz was the first Red to represent the Reds at the Midsummer Classic in back-to-back seasons since Joey Votto (2017-18). He also became the sixth shortstop in franchise history to make consecutive All-Star Games (last: Barry Larkin, 1999-2000) and the fourth Red with multiple All-Star nods before turning 24, joining Johnny Bench (4, 1968-71), Frank Robinson (3, 1956-59), and Vada Pinson (2, 1959-60). Abbott served as a replacement for Los Angeles' Yoshinobu Yamamoto, becoming the first Reds left-handed pitcher to earn an All-Star selection since Aroldis Chapman in 2015. He also became just the fourth Reds left-handed starting pitcher over the last 40 years to be selected to the National League All-Star Team, joining John Smiley (1995), Tom Browning (1991), and Danny Jackson (1988). After sending Elly De La Cruz and Hunter Greene to the Midsummer Classic in 2024, Cincinnati has had multiple All-Star representatives in back-to-back years for the first time since sending at least 2 players to the All-Star Game in 10 straight seasons from 2010-19.

REDS BALLPARKS THROUGH THE YEARS

UNION GROUNDS (1869-70)

Union Grounds served as the first home of baseball's original professional team. The park was located near the area now occupied by the Museum Center in the Union Terminal train station. Anchored by a grandstand called "Grand Duchess," the park could seat up to 4,000 fans.

AVENUE GROUNDS (1876-79)

The Reds headed two miles north from Union Grounds to erect Avenue Grounds, which featured a grandstand that could seat up to 3,000 fans. The ballpark was approximately four miles from the heart of the city's population, so horse-drawn streetcars and trains were a popular way to travel to the park.

BANK STREET GROUNDS (1880-83)

The Reds moved closer to the city with the opening of Bank Street Grounds prior to the 1880 season. The ballpark was located on the north side of Bank Street, south of Western Avenue and just west of McLean Avenue, and could seat up to 4,000 fans. Innovative scoreboard features included players' names and out-of-town scores.

LEAGUE PARK (1884-1901)

Originally called American Park (in reference to Cincinnati's membership in the American Association), the park was renamed League Park (in reference to the National League) in 1890. The park featured a covered grandstand with leather-cushioned seats and open seats along the first- and third-base sides.

PALACE OF THE FANS (1902-11)

Following a major fire, the Reds rebuilt the main grandstand of League Park in 1902. Today, baseball historians refer to the updated facility as Palace of the Fans. The park featured an illustrious grandstand with pillars and columns carved by hand, as well as 19 fashion boxes (much like opera boxes) and inexpensive field-level seating.

CROSLY FIELD (1912-70)

Originally named Redland Field and renamed in 1934, Crosley Field was the first Reds ballpark to feature a double-decked grandstand. The facility, located at the corner of Western Avenue and Findlay Street, was the site of baseball's first night game and hosted Cincinnati's first World Series Championship team.

RIVERFRONT STADIUM/CINERGY FIELD (1970-2002)

The Reds shared Riverfront Stadium/Cinergy Field with the NFL's Bengals until 1999. The multipurpose stadium, which could seat approximately 56,000 fans, was considered state-of-the-art upon its opening in June 1970. The facility hosted five pennant winners and three World Series Championship teams.

GREAT AMERICAN BALL PARK (2003-PRESENT)

On July 7, 2000, Great American Insurance Company, one of the oldest insurance companies in the United States, and the Cincinnati Reds, America's first professional baseball team, joined forces by announcing a 30-year agreement under which the new home of the Reds would be called Great American Ball Park. The facility, with room for more than 42,000 fans, includes a variety of seating and dining options, state-of-the-art sound and scoreboard systems and an array of historical elements scattered throughout. ScorePAD Sports, Inc.'s state-of-the-art STADIUMnet baseball scoring system provides a direct feed to scoreboard operations that includes a variety of in-game, season and career information about each player that can be shown on the scoreboards high above left center field and in right field.

REDS RETIRED UNIFORM NUMBERS

42 JACKIE ROBINSON

Born: 1/31/1919 Birthplace: Cairo, GA Died: 10/24/1972 Number Retired: 1997

The first black player in the Major Leagues, Jackie Robinson played for the Dodgers from 1947-56. The 6-time All-Star was National League Rookie of the Year in 1947 and NL Most Valuable Player in 1949. In 1997, the 50th anniversary of his debut, every team in baseball retired his number. The last Major League player to wear #42 was Yankees pitcher Mariano Rivera, who retired following the 2013 season.

1 FRED HUTCHINSON

Born: 8/12/1919 Birthplace: Seattle, WA Died: 11/12/1964 Number Retired: 1965

Fred Hutchinson's 443 victories and .544 winning percentage as Reds manager still rank among the club's all-time best. The Reds won at least 90 games in 3 of his 6 seasons and in 1961 took the National League pennant. But the joy of a first-place finish was matched only 3 years later by the sadness of Hutch's death. The courage, class, and determination Fred exemplified all his life were all the more evident during his battle with cancer. Hutch stepped down as Reds manager in 1964, and he died that November. The following year, Hutch's No. 1 became the first uniform jersey number in Reds history to be retired. Today, Fred Hutchinson's legacy lives on in the world-renowned Cancer Research Center that bears his name, and in The Hutch Award. It is given annually to a Major League ballplayer who "best exemplifies the character and fighting spirit of the late Fred Hutchinson...who overcomes any form of adversity." Past Reds winners include Ray Knight, Ron Oester, Eric Davis, Bobby Tolan, Johnny Bench, and Sean Casey.

5 JOHNNY BENCH

Born: 12/7/1947 Birthplace: Oklahoma City, OK Number Retired: 8/11/1984

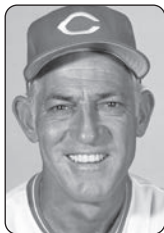

Cincinnati's uniform No. 5 belongs to perhaps the greatest catcher ever to play in the Major Leagues. Johnny Bench ended his 17-year storied career in 1983 after earning a pair of Most Valuable Player Awards, 10 Gold Gloves, and 14 All-Star Game selections. He was inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1989. Bench began his career by winning the 1968 National League Rookie of the Year Award. He ended his career with a .267 batting average and 389 homers, including 327 as a catcher that at the time stood as a record for NL backstops. On the Reds' all-time batting list, Bench ranks first in homers and RBI (1,376), third in extra-base hits (794) and total bases (3,644), fifth in runs scored (1,091) and doubles (381), and sixth in hits (2,048). He appeared in 22 National League Championship Series games and 23 World Series games. Bench earned World Series MVP honors in 1976, when the Reds swept the New York Yankees. He twice led the league in home runs (40 in 1972, 45 in 1970) and 3 times led the NL in RBI (148 in 1970, 125 in 1972, 129 in 1974).

He won his first MVP award in 1975, when he guided the Reds to a World Series victory over the Boston Red Sox. Morgan batted .327 with 67 stolen bases that season. He was MVP again in 1976, as the Reds roared to their second straight World Series championship with a 4-game sweep of the New York Yankees. That season he hit .320 with 60 stolen bases. Morgan remains the Reds' all-time stolen base leader (406), and his 266 home runs as a second baseman rank fourth in baseball history behind Jeff Kent, Robinson Canó, and Ryne Sandberg. He finished his 22-year professional career with 268 homers, 1,133 RBI and 689 stolen bases for the Astros, Reds, Giants, Phillies, and Athletics.

GREAT AMERICAN BALL PARK PLAYER STATUES

The home of the Reds features many visible acknowledgements of the club's rich history. Notable among them are the eight statues of Reds greats positioned near the park's entry gates. The first four statues installed at the ballpark feature players from the Crosley Field era while the others represent three of the legends from the Big Red Machine club of the 1970s. Each of the statues was created by nationally-renowned artist Tom Tsuchiya. In addition to the Reds, Mr. Tsuchiya has produced works of art for Major League Baseball, the National Baseball Hall of Fame and the National Football League.

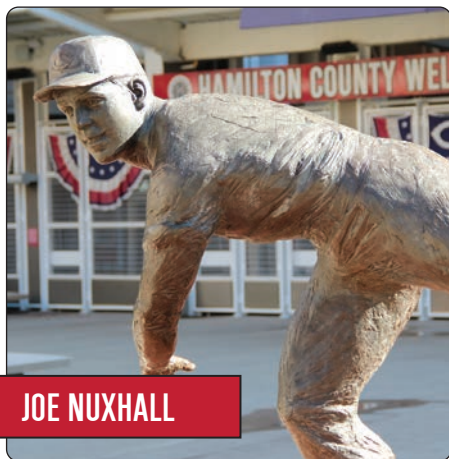

TOM TSUCHIYA

CROSLY ERA STATUES

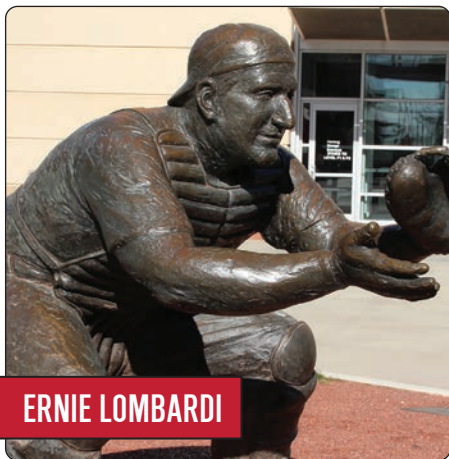

The four statues located at Great American Ball Park's Crosley Terrace main entrance represent four players that a fan vote determined best represented the Reds during the 1912–1970 Crosley Field era. The statues are positioned on a contoured field that evokes Crosley's famous outfield incline which was dubbed "the terrace." The scene depicts Joe Nuxhall pitching to Frank Robinson with Ernie Lombardi serving as Nuxhall's battery mate. Standing on-deck, awaiting his turn at the plate, is Ted Kluszewski. The Kluszewski, Nuxhall and Robinson statues were dedicated during Great American Ball Park's inaugural season in 2003. The Lombardi statue followed in 2004.

JOHNNY BENCH

The subject of the first statue commissioned by the Reds Hall of Fame was Johnny Bench, the Big Red Machine's catcher who has been called "Baseball's Greatest Catcher." Known for having one of the most powerful throwing arms in the history of the game, the statue depicts Bench in the act of gunning down a runner trying to steal a base. The statue is located in the Hall of Fame Breezeway, just outside the main entrance to the Reds Hall of Fame on the West side of Great American Ball Park.

JOE MORGAN

Dedicated by the Reds Hall of Fame and Museum in 2013

Located at the corner of Joe Nuxhall Way and Second Street on the northwest corner of Great American Ball Park, the Joe Morgan statue captures the Reds' modern era leader in career stolen bases as he breaks for second base on a steal attempt. Possessing a combination of power, speed, and superlative defensive skills, Morgan is widely considered to be the best second baseman in baseball history.

TONY PEREZ

Dedicated by the Reds Hall of Fame and Museum in 2015

One of the most beloved players in Reds history, Tony Perez was one of the great clutch hitters of his era and was the Big Red Machine's most reliable run producer. Perez' statue depicts "The Big Dog" in the follow-through of his home run swing in the seventh game of the 1975 World Series. Perez' home run sparked the Reds' comeback in the decisive contest that ended with the Reds clinching the first of back-to-back World Championships. The statue is located on Joe Nuxhall Way, near the entrance to the Reds Team Shop. Mounted atop the building directly across the street from the statue is a baseball that appears to be soaring over the building, just as Perez' World Series home run flew over the top of Fenway Park's "Green Monster" in 1975.

PETE ROSE

Dedicated by the Reds Hall of Fame and Museum in 2017

The fourth and final statue in the Big Red Machine series that began with the dedication of the Johnny Bench statue in 2011, the Pete Rose statue was dedicated in 2017 and is adjacent to the Tony Perez statue at the entrance to Great American Ball Park. This tribute to the Cincinnati native and all-time career hits leader depicts Rose in his trademark head first slide. Engineers from GE Aviation were enlisted to construct a special internal frame that allows the statue to accurately depict Rose "in flight."

MARTY BRENNAMAN STATUE

During a pregame ceremony on September 6, 2025, the Cincinnati Reds and Reds Hall of Fame and Museum unveiled a bronze sculpture of Hall of Fame broadcaster Marty Brennaman outside of Great American Ball Park prior to that night's game between the Reds and Mets. The sculpture depicts Brennaman behind the radio microphone, just as he was for 46 years as the Reds' primary radio play-by-play announcer on 700 WLW (1974-2019). During that time, he provided the soundtrack for 3 World Series championships (1975, '76, '90), 7 division titles, and 8 trips to the Postseason. Brennaman, who became the first broadcaster to be inducted into the Reds Hall of Fame in 2021, received the Ford C. Frick Award in 2000, presented annually by the National Baseball Hall of Fame to a broadcaster for "major contributions to the game of baseball." The 17-time Ohio Sportscenter of the Year is a member of National Sportscenter and Sportswriters Hall of Fame, National Radio Hall of Fame, Virginia Sports Hall of Fame, and the Hampton Roads (VA) Sports Hall of Fame.

Brennaman's statue stands near the Reds' front office building, facing Joe Nuxhall Way and greeting fans as they arrive on Crosley Terrace. His sculpture is the ninth at Great American Ball Park, an exclusive club that includes Reds Hall of Famer and former broadcast partner Joe Nuxhall. Brennaman and Nuxhall shared the booth for 31 seasons (1974-2004), tying Vin Scully and Jerry Doggett of the Dodgers for the longest-running broadcast duo in MLB history. Including his time with the Reds, Brennaman spent 55 years as a broadcaster.

SEPTEMBER 16, 1988: ONE PERFECT NIGHT

In a 1-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers on September 16, 1988, lefthander Tom Browning tossed the only perfect game in Cincinnati Reds history.

It was only the 14th perfect game of 9 innings or more in Major League history, just the third in modern National League history and the first no-hitter by a Reds pitcher since Tom Seaver blanked the Cardinals, 4-0, on June 16, 1978.

Browning's perfect game capped off an incredible season in which he posted an 18-5 record, including a 16-2 mark after June 6.

POSTSEASON

The Reds most recently participated in the Postseason following the 2025 campaign, where they were swept, 2 games to none, in a best-of-3 National League Wild Card Series. Before that, Cincinnati's last Postseason appearance came following a 2020 season shortened to 60 games by a global pandemic fueled by the COVID-19 virus, earning 1 of 8 National League playoff spots for their only Postseason berth since 2013. From 2010–2013, the Reds appeared in the Postseason in 3 of 4 seasons, including NL Central Division championships in 2010 and 2012 and a berth in the 2013 Wild Card Game. In club history, that Postseason stretch is matched only by the teams that made 6 playoffs during the Big Red Machine era (1970, '72, '73, '75, '76, '79).

"1919 Black Sox Scandal"

Chicago White Sox Pitcher Eddie Cicotte and outfielder Shoeless Joe Jackson tearfully confessed to a Cook County grand jury that they and third baseman Buck Weaver, center fielder Oscar (Happy) Felsch, first baseman Arnold (Chick) Gandil, utility infielder Fred McMullin, shortstop Charles (Swede) Risberg and pitcher Claude (Lefty) Williams had conspired with known gamblers, allegedly including Arnold Rothstein, to throw the 1919 World Series.

While none of the 8 players were convicted in court, all were banned from the game for life by the first commissioner of baseball, former Federal Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

Weaver, who had known about the conspiracy from the beginning, refused to participate and batted .324 in the World Series. He was banned, however, for not exposing his teammates. Jackson, who admitted taking $5,000, batted .375 with a homer and 6 RBI.

Risberg committed 4 errors and batted .080, but did not receive a cent. Gandil - the organizer of the scam - walked away with $30,000 and immediately announced his retirement. Cicotte lost 2 of his 3 starts and earned a $10,000 payday. He later told the jury it was not worth the effort.

They outscored the Reds 18-9 over two games. This marked the first postseason appearance for the Reds since 2020. Yoshinobu Yamamoto was the standout pitcher, while Teoscar Hernández and Shohei Ohtani led the offense. Have lost each of their last 8 Postseason games dating back to 2012. The Reds are 2-15 over their last 17 playoff games dating back to 1995. Have dropped each of their last 6 Postseason series since sweeping the Dodgers in the 1995 National League Division Series (3-0). Sal Stewart became the youngest position player (21y/297d) to appear in a Postseason game in Reds history, per Elias.

Game 2 @ LAD (Dodger Stadium) - Dodgers 8, Reds 4

October 1 - In Game 2, the Dodgers defeated the Cincinnati Reds 8-4 at Dodger Stadium. The victory completed a 2-0 series sweep, advancing the Dodgers to the National League Division Series. The Reds took an early 2-0 lead in the first inning after a throwing error by Teoscar Hernández allowed rookie Sal Stewart to drive in two runs with a single. The Dodgers began to chip away at the lead in the third inning and eventually took a 3-2 advantage by the fourth. In the top of the sixth, the Reds loaded the bases with no outs but failed to score. In the bottom half of that inning, the Dodgers broke the game open with a four-run sixth inning, aided by a throwing error from Sal Stewart. Cincinnati attempted a comeback in the eighth inning, loading the bases and scoring twice to bring the score to 8-4, but left nine runners on base total for the game.

BASEBALL IN GOODYEAR

In 2010 the Reds moved their spring training and player development operations to the west Phoenix, Arizona suburb of Goodyear.

The club made the move from Sarasota, Florida, where it had trained since 1998.

In addition to the spring training and player development operations, Goodyear serves as the summer home for the Reds' rookie Arizona League affiliate.

Spring training games are played at nearby Goodyear Ballpark, a facility the Reds share with the Cleveland Guardians.

On July 14, 2008 the Reds and the City of Goodyear finalized the terms on a binding use agreement that paved the way for the team to move its spring training facilities there in 2010. The team and city broke ground on November 17, 2008.

The agreement includes a 20-year lease that began in 2010 and two 5-year team options.

The Reds' Player Development Complex on South Wood Boulevard includes a 44,000-square foot clubhouse, 6 full practice fields, 2 half fields and an agility field.

The main ballpark seats more than 10,300 fans, including 500 premium box seats, 8,000 fixed seats and space for 2,000 spectators on a grassy berm in the outfield.

The original plans called for the stadium to be the centerpiece of Ballpark Village, a mixed-use development featuring offices, shops, restaurants, housing, hotels and a conference center.

The Guardians' instructional league team moved to Goodyear in September 2008, while their first Major League spring training camp was held in the new shared facility in February 2009.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL RULES OF INTEREST

Calculating the Magic Number: Determine the number of games to be played by the team in the lead. Add one to that number. Subtract from that figure the number of games ahead in the loss column from the closest opponent.

Determining Earned Run Average: Multiply earned runs by nine, then divide total by innings pitched.

Determining Batting Average: Divide total hits by total at-bats.

Determining Slugging Percentage: Divide the total bases of all safe hits by the total number of at-bats.

Determining On-Base Percentage: Divide hits + walks + hit-by-pitch, by at-bats + walks + hit-by-pitch + sacrifice flies.

Determining Fielding Percentage: Divide the total number of putouts and assists by the total of putouts, assists and errors.

The Winning Pitcher: The starting pitcher will be credited with the win only if the pitcher has pitched at least five complete innings and his team not only is in the lead when he is replaced, but remains in the lead the remainder of the game. EXCEPTION: The "must-pitch-five-complete-innings" rule in respect to the starting pitcher shall be in effect for all games of six or more innings. In a five-inning game, credit the starting pitcher with a game won only if he has pitched at least four complete innings and his team not only is in the lead when he is replaced, but remains in the lead the remainder of the game. When the starting pitcher does not meet the preceding criteria and more than one relief pitcher is used, the victory shall be awarded on the following basis:

- (1) When, during the tenure of the starting pitcher, the winning team assumes the lead and maintains it to the finish of the game, credit the victory to the relief pitcher judged by the official scorer to have been the most effective.
- (2) Whenever the score is tied, the game becomes a new contest insofar as the winning and losing pitcher is concerned.
- (3) Once the opposing team assumes the lead, all pitchers who have pitched up to that point are excluded from being credited with the victory except the current pitcher.
- (4) The winning relief pitcher shall be the one who is the pitcher of record when his team assumes the lead and maintains it to the finish of the game. EXCEPTION: Do not credit a victory to a relief pitcher who is ineffective in a brief appearance, when a succeeding relief pitcher pitches effectively in helping his team maintain the lead. In such cases, credit the succeeding relief pitcher with the victory.

Earning a Save: Credit a pitcher with a save when he meets all of the following conditions:

- (1) He is the pitcher that finished the game won by his team.
- (2) He is not the winning pitcher.
- (3) He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
 - a. He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning, or
 - b. He enters the game, regardless of the count, with the potential tying run either on base, at bat, or on deck (that is, the potential tying run either already on base or is one of the first two batters he faces), or
 - c. He pitches effectively for at least three innings.

Consecutive Game Hitting Streak: A consecutive game hitting streak shall not be terminated if the player's plate appearance(s) results in a base on balls, hit batter, defensive interference or sac bunt. The streak shall terminate if the player has a sac fly and no hit. Hitting streaks do not carry over from season to season.

Consecutive Game Playing Streak: A consecutive game playing streak shall be extended if the player plays one-half inning on defense or if he completes a time at bat by reaching base or being put out. A pinch-running appearance shall not extend the streak. If a player is ejected from the game by an umpire before he can comply with the requirement of this rule, the streak shall continue.

Rain Delays: Pursuant to Rule 3.10(a), the manager of the home team shall be the sole judge as to whether a game shall be started because of unsuitable weather conditions or the unfit condition of the playing field, except for the second game of a doubleheader. Pursuant to Rule 3.10(c), the umpire in chief shall be the sole judge as to whether and when a game shall be suspended and as to whether and when play will be resumed. An umpire shall not call a game until at least 30 minutes after he has suspended play. He may continue the suspension as long as he believes there is any chance to resume play.

National League Curfew: There is no curfew in the National League. The game is in the hands of the umpires once it has started.

Major League Year: 172 days of service time constitutes a full year in the Major Leagues.

Rookie Status at the Major League Level: To be considered a rookie, a player must not have more than 130 at-bats, or 50 innings-pitched in the Major Leagues during a previous season or seasons, nor more than 45 days on a Major League roster during the Major League 25-player limit (excluding time in the military).
